About the Project

With the recent refugee crisis, the European values have been questioned. Having so many different cultures coexisting together in Europe has become a problem and there is an obvious growth of racist and xenophobic ideas and attitudes. In an economically and socially challenging moment for Europe, it is important to stress that diversity should be treasured and promoted. Young people who are behind of this project believe that Intercultural Dialogue, Learning and Communication are the best tools to promote youth de-radicalization, tolerance and cultural acceptance.

The main aim of this project is to gather young people from 7 different EU countries, discuss how the Intercultural Learning can be used as a tool against radicalization and exchange ideas on the concepts of intercultural society which have become controversial.

The concrete objectives of our Youth Exchange are the following:

- A. Discuss the concept of intercultural learning and explain how young people can avoid creating more stereotypes.
- B. Learn about cultural diversity in different parts of Europe and exchange ideas on intercultural society
- C. Develop a shared understanding of the concept of intercultural learning and multiculturalism.
- D. Debate on how Intercultural Learning can be used as a tool to fight radicalization.
- E. Develop a good working knowledge of Erasmus+ programme and how young people can use it to promote tolerance and anti-discrimination.
- F. Develop new projects together promoting intercultural dialogue among different cultures and communities in Europe.
