

What are you going to do with your humanities degree?

Youngsters enter the labour market" is a youth exchange project organized by the Chrześcijańska Służba Charytatywna (Poland), Evropské center mládeže Breclav (Czech Republic), Asociacija "Apkabink Europe "(Lithuania), Youth Venture Berlin (Germany), IG Slunce (Bulgaria) and Associazione culturale Eufemia (Italy).

30 young people (5 people from each country including one leader) with humanities degree, recently graduated or still studying at the last year of university, will participate in this exchange. They will meet all together in Wisła (Poland) to analyze the problem of unemployment among youngsters with humanities degree, identify their needs, exchange experience and search for solutions, using non-formal education methods. We are planning to focus also on the development of soft skills and the importance of humanistic education. As a result of activities participants will prepare promotion videos connected with the main topic of project and a mini-report as a summary of their analysis. Report prepared by them can be use in the future as a basis to create a full trening programme to help youngsters with humanities degree enter the labour market.
